Total Fair Market Value (Entered by Donor): _____

It's the donor's responsibility to determine the item's fair market value. Research online for fair market value of items and/or consult with your tax advisor. Only taxpayers who itemize (use the long form) can deduct charitable donations. People who itemize are typically homeowners who are deducting a portion of their mortgage interest. If you don't normally itemize but made a sizable charity donation, the donation must be greater than the standard deduction. If any single item of clothing that you are donating is not in at least good condition and you plan to claim a deduction of more than $500 for that single item, you may need an appraisal for that item. Hang on to this form - at the end of the year to provide to your accountant. If you believe the value of your donation is over $5,000, and if you plan to claim a charitable tax deduction for your donation, you may need to have Suited Warriors complete certain tax forms to be able to claim a charitable deduction. Before making a donation of that value, please email: info@suitedwarriors.org.
